Skills and Interests: I have fairly good communications skills both in written and oral English and Filipino. I have extensive hands on experience on Linux distributions and local area network troubleshooting and set up. I also have programming experience using C++. I am currently training in the use of GSM modems to receive/transmit SMS and MMS to update a database backed web application.

I enjoy spending time with my classmates and friends. I also see to it that I am fit and healthy by hitting the gym whenever I have the time and playing tennis or basketball every once in a while.
